What We Are Learning

Math: Properties of multiplication, solving for a missing factor

Reading: Elements of fables, determining the central message/moral, character traits within fables

Writing: Writing personal narratives with emphasis on drafting.

Science: Structures of seeds and how they become plants.

Social Studies: Arizona geography

From the Teacher:

For parent-teacher conferences use the "Office Hours" Zoom link that can be found on Clever. It should allow any Zoom login to sign-on. You will be placed in the waiting room until your scheduled time. If you have any technology trouble or need to re-schedule, please let me know.

I will be out on Tuesday, September 22nd. Instead of having a substitute on Zoom, I will be posting video lessons for that day on Clever. Students can watch the lessons and follow along just like in class. Please let me know if you have any questions.
